

PRESS RELEASE

detego® SUITE – the new brand name for leading RFID solutions

Technology expert RF-iT Solutions presents the detego® SUITE, a new product concept providing standard modules for production, distribution and trade.

(Graz, 2010-01-21) – RF-iT Solutions, one of the leading RFID service providers in Europe, has launched a new product concept with the proven industry solutions of the technology leader for the entire supply chain at the beginning of the year. "Based on the flexible solution modules of the detego® SUITE, RFID projects will now be less complex and will involve lower investments than before", explains Robert Paulus, Senior Vice President of RF-iT Solutions GmbH and adds: "At the same time we guarantee maximum security, sustainability and cost efficiency for the business processes along the value chain."

New concept, proven expertise: detego® SUITE

The detego® SUITE comprises flexible solution modules for production, distribution and trade as well as professional services related to RFID. Fast and smooth integration in grown IT landscapes as well maximum flexibility are guaranteed on the basis of the proven standards. All modules are completely independent of one another and may be connected with one another in any given combination. "The consistent implementation of the detego® SUITE module concept enables companies to react flexibly and rapidly to new requirements. This ensures the connection of new processes and a fast ROI", Paulus points out. All solution modules of the detego® SUITE are available out-of-the-box, can be combined in many ways and adapted individually.

Simple and secure with Plug & Trace

Users can map business processes along the supply chain fast, efficiently and comprehensively and optimise them: for instance, incoming goods or commissioning in production, interface management in distribution, or inventory control in the shop. Automated tracking & tracing of the individual parts allows accurate tracing of these parts in the production process. "This way, a clear edge can be achieved in terms of speed, accuracy and quality", Paulus is convinced.

The detego® solution modules are supplemented by professional services. These include technology and process consulting, installation, customer relations and support, project management as well as training and documentation.
